15th Annual
World AIDS Day Symposium
Sponsored by the UNC Center for AIDS Research

Monday, December 2nd, 2013
1131 Bioinformatics Building (UNC campus)

8:00-8:30am: Registration
8:30-8:45am: Morning Session Introduction
8:45-9:35am: Myron Cohen- Treatment as Prevention
9:35-10:30am: Jacquelyn Clymore- North Carolina Cascade
    Bill Miller- NC Cascade: What the numbers really mean
10:30-11am: Byrd Quinlivan- Linkage and Retention
11-11:15am: BREAK
11:15-12:15am: Positive Patient Panel- Barriers to Care
12:15-1:15pm: LUNCH

1:15-1:30pm: Afternoon Session Introduction
1:30-2:00pm: Dirk Dittmer- AIDS-associated cancers in the US—today
2:00-2:30pm: Stanley Lemon- Decreased diversity of hepatitis C virus NS3 sequence in well-controlled human immunodeficiency virus 1 co-infection
2:30-3:00pm: Jennifer Smith- Cervical cancer screening and treatment of HIV seropositive women
3:00-3:15pm: BREAK
3:15-3:30pm: Kim Powers- The HIV Epidemic in the ART Era: Monitoring, Metrics, and Mathematical Models
3:45-4:15pm: Daniel Westreich- Women’s reproductive health and HIV: new questions, new approaches
4:15-4:45pm: Brian Pence- Psychiatric disorders and health outcomes in people living with HIV
4:45-5:00pm: Closing remarks

Registration required, visit globalhealth.unc.edu under “Highlights”
Lunch provided